

Teacher Workshops

What: Free one-hour nutrition education workshops to familiarize teachers with the program of their choice. Designed around Canada's Food Guide and based on BC's Health and Career Education curriculum.

Where: At your school! (Available after school or on professional development days)

When: Flexible! Organize a workshop and we will send a Registered Dietitian to your school.

How Much: Workshops are free of charge with no obligation to purchase materials.

Program materials are only available to teachers who have taken the workshop.

Win an iPad mini!

Organize a workshop at your school for a chance to win an iPad mini.

Two iPad minis will be given away this 2014-2015 school year.

Draw Dates: December 2014 & May 2015

Titanium Chef Le chef titane Grades 6-8

Do your students have what it takes to compete in the Titanium Stadium? In this internet-based role-playing game, students discover, explore and compete to become the galaxy's greatest chef.

Visit www.titaniumchef.ca to access the game.

During the course of the game, players

- challenge themselves to learn skills such as figuring out Food Guide Servings and planning healthy eating for a day
- compete as a Chefbot to become a Titanium Chef
- explore new worlds to discover and collect ingredients and tools to prepare meals

An optional workshop on this award-winning resource will introduce teachers to the game and to classroom based resources to enhance learning and assess students. Titanium Chef is also available in French.
